SURGERY

This busy, two-handed surgery originally occupied very cramped premises in the Ground Floor and adjacent extension to this modest detached house. The project secured change of use from residential and converted the entire property into a surgery. The building works were extensive and included the renewal of all services. They were carefully organised and completed in two phases which prolonged the building period but nevertheless, ensured that the surgery was able to continue throughout. The scheme was publicly applauded by the Surrey FHSA.
